I. Health Care Proxy and Living Will

A Health Care Proxy allows you to appoint an agent to make all health care decisions for you in the event that you are unable to make those decisions for yourself. Your agent's authority will begin when physicians determine that you lack the capacity to make health care decisions. You may appoint your spouse/domestic partner, family member or friend as your agent. Also, you may appoint an alternate agent in the event your primary choice is unable or unwilling to act as your agent. You may appoint one agent and one (or more) alternate agent(s). However, only one agent can act in that capacity at a time and they cannot act together. The order in which they are listed determines the order in which your health care provider will consult with them.

The Living Will (which is not a DNR) is optional. It indicates that no heroic measures should be taken in the event that there is no reasonable expectation of recovery and that you will only survive by life sustaining measures. We will provide you with a Living Will. There is nothing for you to fill out to receive one.

Your Health Care Proxy is required to follow the instructions in your Living Will, if you choose to sign one.

If you appoint a physician as your agent, he or she may have to choose between acting as your agent or as your attending physician. Also, if you are a patient or resident of a hospital, nursing home or mental hygiene facility, there are special restrictions about appointing someone who works for that facility as your agent. You should ask personnel at the facility to explain those restrictions.

II. Power of Attorney for Financial Transactions

The Power of Attorney permits you to designate a person that you completely trust as your decision maker, referred to as your attorney-in-fact, to handle your financial affairs (as opposed to your health affairs). If you prefer to designate more than one person as your attorney(s)-in-fact, you may do so. This Power of Attorney provides your attorney(s)-in-fact with full authority to sign your name to any legal document, in addition to acting as your agent in specific situations, such as making decisions regarding retirement plans, making gifts, tax elections and other financial matters.

The New York Power of Attorney allows for you to appoint a third party, a "monitor", to oversee the actions of your agent(s). The monitor can demand from your agent(s) documentation concerning the transactions your agent(s) made on your behalf. If you wish to appoint a monitor to oversee your agent(s), please check the box below:

III. Confidential Simple Will Questionnaire Considerations

A. Assets: The Simple Will prepared for you based upon the information you have set forth in this questionnaire will provide for the distribution of your probate estate only.

B. Reciprocal documents are two sets of documents made by two persons in which identical provisions are made. (i.e.: spouse to spouse, domestic partner to domestic partner).

C. Non-reciprocal documents are documents made by two persons in which the provisions are not identical.

D. Your Will affects assets held solely in your name. Jointly owned property will pass to the other joint owner. Property "In Trust For", the beneficiary of an insurance policy or an Individual Retirement Account will pass to that person or persons designated on the policy or account. Your Will only disposes of property that is not jointly owned, has no beneficiary designation or is otherwise controlled by statute.

E. Your estate may be subject to Federal and/or New York State Estate Taxation if the sum of your assets exceeds the applicable exemptions. In addition, your estate may be subject to additional Federal and State estate taxes if you or your spouse or domestic partner are not U.S. citizens. Please call the Legal Plan Office to obtain estate planning advice, which may reduce any tax burden, if you or your spouse or domestic partner are not U.S. citizens, or if your estate exceeds the Federal and/or New York estate tax exemptions.

Guardian(s) of Minor Children

The surviving parent of a child under the age of eighteen (18) is ordinarily entitled to be the Guardian of that child. In the case of simultaneous death of you and your spouse, or if you are a single parent, you should appoint a Guardian for your child(ren) under the age of eighteen (18). This Guardian will have legal custody of your children in the event that you and your spouse die before your children reach the age of eighteen (18).

An individual will be disqualified from acting as a Guardian or Executor if that individual is:

1. Less than eighteen (18) years of age, or
2. A judicially declared incompetent, or
3. A non-United States citizen who does not reside in the United States, or
4. A convicted felon.

2. Joint Primary Guardian: (optional)

Full Name: _____

Relationship: _____

1. Alternate Guardian:

Important information regarding Guardianship: Another factor to consider is how beneficiaries will inherit from your estate if they are under the age of eighteen (18). If you have minor beneficiaries, assets passing under your Will to them, will be placed in a Court supervised Guardianship Account which will oversee their inheritance until they reach the age of eighteen (18). The Guardian appointed by the Court is required to account to the Court annually for the funds in the Guardianship Account until the beneficiary reaches the age of eighteen (18). The Guardian will also have to request the Court's permission to withdraw funds from the Guardianship Account for the beneficiary's needs.

Important information regarding a Trust for children/minors in the Will: Through a Trust, you can name a Trustee(s) (who may also be the same person(s) as the Guardian(s) to hold assets inherited by children/minors, who will use these funds for the child's/minor's needs (health, education, maintenance and support). The Trustee(s) do not need Court permission to withdraw money from the Trust for the child/minor's needs, nor file annual reports with the Court. In addition, you may choose the age at which the trust would end at and the beneficiary would take control of their inheritance from the trustee(s). You may also choose to stagger the outright distribution of the trust at different ages, for example, at ages 25 and 30. Should you wish to establish a Trust for minors/children in your Will, instead of having their inheritance placed in a Guardianship account, please indicate so below:

Do you want to have a trust set up in your will for a child/minor?

Yes No

Please list the name(s) and age(s) of that child or children:

Do you want the guardian you are appointing to also be appointed as the trustee of that child's inheritance?

If you want to appoint a different person to serve as the trustee, please list that information here:

1. Primary Trustee:

Yes No

In the event that you have a beneficiary that is physically and/or mentally disabled that would benefit from a "special needs trust" do you want your appointed executor to serve as the trustee of that trust as well?
